

Club Women Brave Rain To Attend Council Meet In Elba; To Hold Leadership Schools

Despite the rain and bad roads Thursday, January 28th, seventy-five women representing eleven home demonstration clubs in the county met in Elba for the Council of Home Demonstration Club Women. The clubs and number of representatives from each are as follows: Basin with 15 members, Calvary, 8; County Line, 13; Curtis, 6; Double Heads, 4; Elba, 5; P. A. 5; Pine, 1; Pleasant Ridge, 5; Wise Mill, 3; Zion Chapel, 5; and Zion, 4.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Wilson Robertson, president of the Council. The program as given was:

Song—"America, The Beautiful!" Invocation—Rev. J. A. Timmerman, pastor Elba Baptist Church, Roll Call by Clubs.

Minutes of last meeting—Mrs. C. F. Paul, Double Heads Club, Business.

Appointment of New Scholarship Chairman—Mrs. Strickland Scott, grove of Baton Club.

Discussion of Work of Citizenship Chairman—Mrs. F. Ferrell, Donor, Calvary Club.

Farm Organization Chairman—Bennie Celia Slaughter, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent.

Scholarship Chairman—Marie B. Matthews, Home Demonstration Agent.

Announcements.

Song—"Battle Hymn of the Republic." Report of Auburn Trip—Mrs. Cecil Brown, Pleasant Ridge.

Song—"America." The council decided to have district council meetings quarterly in each Commissioner's District. The following clubs will be hostesses at the first district meetings:

L. P. Young's District—Baldin Club; meeting to be held some time in March.

Fountain Lee's District—Double Heads; meeting to be held some time in March.

Dave Johnson's District—Open. A. J. Harrell's District—Calvary; meeting to be held some time in March.

The club women were asked to begin thinking of the Rural Electrification project which we hope will be under way soon.

The council is very grateful to Mrs. L. L. Farris for conducting the songs.

It was a pleasure to have Mrs. Thomson, Rev. J. A. Timmerman and Miss Emma Farris with us as visitors. Their remarks to the group were an inspiration to all present.

There will be a Leadership School in Elba Tuesday, February 9, at the Home Economics room, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

Leaders from the following home demonstration clubs are expected to be present: Basin, Grove, Victoria, Double Heads, New Hope, Kinston, Brooklyn, Curtis, Basin, Newbia, Ino, Hamby, Survivors, Pine Level, Zor, Evergreen, Wise Mill, Zion Chapel and Elba W. P. A.

The Leadership School will be held at Enterprise Wednesday, February 10, at the Home Economics room, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

Leaders from the following clubs are expected to attend: Pleasant Ridge, Calvary, Bethany, County Line, Mt. Pleasant, Aubrey, Roeton, Ennon.

Even though the home agents were out of the county at an agent's conference in Auburn for a week, and despite the hindrance caused by the rains and bad roads, all clubs held meetings last month.

However, the attendance was not as good as was hoped for. Kinston held their meeting while the agents were away and was 22 present.

Attendance for January: County Line, 27; Double Heads, 15; Evergreen, 15; Zor, 10; Ennon, 8; Wise Mill, 16; Chestnut Grove, 12; Victoria, 8; Newbia, 12; Ino, 19; Calvary, 23; Kinston, 22; Brooklyn, 14; New Hope, 17; Zion Chapel, 10; Basin, 19; Pine Level, 12; Pleasant Ridge, 10; Ham, 21; Bethany, 13; Elba W. P. A., 14; Mt. Pleasant, 13; Curtis, 12; Rhoades, 15; Roeton, 9; Aubrey, 15.

MAMIE B. MATTHEWS, Home Demonstration Agent.

PRESS COMMITTEE URGES FORMATION STATE-WIDE BODY

Formation of a State-wide organization, looking to the general development of Alabama, was advocated at a meeting of the Industrial Committee of the Alabama Press Association held in Montgomery Friday, January 28th, at the Whitley Hotel.

On motion of H. H. Golen of Wetumpka a resolution was unanimously adopted, inviting the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

Members of the committee are not only vitally interested in bringing into the State new industries, but have included in their plans the protection of existing growth industries and further development of possibilities in connection with these industries, to the end that more jobs, payrolls, opportunities and a balance between agriculture and industry may be accomplished in the interest of all the people.

The Alabama Press Association, through its industrial committee, invites the formation of a State-wide organization, embracing in character the general development of the State, to cooperate with the press committee in carrying to completion the program of the Alabama Press Association.

THE ELBA CLIPPER

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

UNGROUND.—When Elba people read so much about the terrible floods that have done so much damage in the Ohio Valley and are now striking terror to inhabitants of the lower Mississippi Valley, naturally our minds go back to our own flood of March, 1929. Many thrilling experiences have been related, some of them quite ludicrous, but about the most unreasonable tale I have heard is the one attributed to Broeze Parker, who says the water got so high at Elba that the water in the creek at Taylor's Mill ran the wrong way, the mill-race reversed itself and underground a ho-ho-shel of meat before the miller could get it stopped. Broeze says in case anybody doubts the truth of this incident, just ask Duke Taylor!

HELD UP.—The Five House at the rear of the City Hall is in readiness, the fire truck and equipment have been bought and had it not been for the strikes in the automobile industry, Elba would now be feeling safer from fire hazard than it has ever felt. However, strikes are something that no one seems able to control, and our citizens will have to be patient and wait until manufacturing and commerce settle their differences, one way or another. Here's hoping that no serious conflagration will break out before the truck arrives.

W. C. T. U.—A goodly number of ladies and a sprinkling of men assembled at the Elba Methodist Church last Tuesday afternoon and organized a local chapter of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Mrs. McAdams of Auburn, State president, presided. Mrs. J. H. Rhinault of Montgomery, district vice-president, delivered an eloquent address, check roll of inspiring information and advice. The following officers were elected: Mrs. F. Brown, president; Mrs. O. Dowling, vice-president; Mrs. F. H. Murphy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. A. Timmerman, recording secretary; Mrs. J. A. Timmerman, treasurer. It was agreed that a vice-president would be chosen at a later date from each of the three Elba churches. Sixteen members were enrolled and the membership will be considerably augmented by those who have signed their intention of joining the organization.

FINE PLANT.—The basement at the Elba Baptist Church is nearing completion, which adds approximately 100 per cent to the efficiency of the church and Sunday School plant. The basement consists of six Sunday School rooms, an assembly room which can be used for a dining hall, etc. It was a happy solution of the problem of taking care of the recent growth of the Sunday School. It is reported that a financial outlay of $1,250 a plant is being built that would cost several thousand dollars if otherwise constructed.

DEPOSITS DOUBLED.—The Emergency Aid Association continues to enjoy an increase in business that is a revelation in the insurance circles, as it is reported that never before has a company made such a remarkable record during the first two years of its existence. The company has recently deposited more than double the security required by law with the State Insurance Department, as attested by Frank N. Julian, State Superintendent of Insurance. The letter is being published on page 3 of this issue.

HELD UP.—The beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Faris, in West Elba, which is 18 years of age.

Mrs. Stephens was the widow of the late George W. Stephens, prominent planter, business man and leader in that section of Coffee County. She comes from one of the county's oldest and most influential families and was held in highest esteem. She was a lovely Christian character, and the outstanding qualities of loyalty and sacrifice for her family and others were ever present throughout her life. A host of friends will mourn her loss but will cherish the memory of a life well spent.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. C. P. Hayes of Elba and Mrs. J. N. Wallace of New Brockton; four sisters, Mrs. Dan Stephens, Mrs. Tom Latimer, Mrs. Ock Weeks, Mrs. Liza Clements; four brothers, Messrs. Joe, Will, Jim and Charlie Gunter.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of Mrs. Stephens on Monday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Bush was officiant, assisted by Rev. A. D. Williams. Rev. J. A. Timmerman and Rev. C. A. Johnson, Interment was in the New Brockton cemetery. Elba Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Active pallbearers were Steiner, Weeks, Guy Gunter, Ralph Gunter, Lester Gunter, Willie Gunter, J. D. Gunter, Lewey Stephens and Jake Stephens. Honorary: Lewey Stephens, Austin Harris, Lee Brown, D. A. Bush, Don Fuller, D. J. Brooks, Dick Jeter, John Brock, B. J. Massey and G. C. Hudson.

THE FLOOD TOLL CROWS (By Vela S. Bryant)

The recent flood in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys have already brought about a major disaster. Hundreds of thousands of people are homeless, many dead, and the property damage, which is mounting hourly, is estimated in the millions.

Need for relief funds is still increasing daily and the American Red Cross has sent out another appeal for money, food and clothing. America has already lent a helping hand to the unfortunate victims in the flooded districts of America always has, America always will.

The fine manner in which Elba citizens rallied to the aid of the homeless and suffering as a result of the floods was magnificent. The present Elba Baptist Church, official and in the history of our country. Many more people undoubtedly will be driven from their homes before the crests of the rivers reach the ocean. If you haven't already given, give something and give it quickly. In the flood area people are suffering from cold, hunger, disease and sickness. Remember it is a time to help, not a time to grieve. If we are not our brother's keeper, we are nothing.

Everyone who believes in insurance certainly will contribute something to the Red Cross fund. We never know when our house might burn, when a tornado might blow it away, when we might suffer a terrible injury, when we might have an accident, or when we may die; so most of us carry insurance.

Neither do we know when disaster is likely to strike our community again, rendering us homeless, bringing destruction, death and disease, and leaving us without food, clothing and shelter. So it behooves us to contribute to the Red Cross fund.

Elba citizens have responded nobly and generously for funds in this crisis, but more money is needed. It probably will be necessary for many who have already contributed to give again. Certainly everyone who can spare something, regardless of how small or large the amount, should do his part.

Come a story from a Tennessee town where flood relief funds were being raised. It says a fatherless little boy walked in, listened to the stirring addresses and contributed two cents; all he had.

"I wanted to buy candy," he said, "but I want to give my two pennies to these unfortunate people." It's a pretty little story—sets a good example.

Heard over the radio. An announcer from WLW read a letter from four small boys who sold a pet goat to help pay for a bicycle, but instead wrote, "We want to do without that bicycle and help the poor flood victims so we are sending the money to them."

But the greatest of these is charity.

Mrs. Margaret Campbell spent the week-end in Geneva.

Mrs. Sam Sawyer, who has been quite sick with an attack of influenza, is convalescent.

MRS. GEO. STEPHENS SUCCEEDS AT HOME IN NEW BROCKTON

Mrs. George Stephens, life-long resident of Coffee County, passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wallace near New Brockton last Sunday. She had been ill for several months suffering from an incurable disease and while her death was not unexpected, it brings sorrow to innumerable friends and deep grief to her family and relatives. She was 74 years of age.

Mrs. Stephens was the widow of the late George W. Stephens, prominent planter, business man and leader in that section of Coffee County. She comes from one of the county's oldest and most influential families and was held in highest esteem. She was a lovely Christian character, and the outstanding qualities of loyalty and sacrifice for her family and others were ever present throughout her life. A host of friends will mourn her loss but will cherish the memory of a life well spent.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. C. P. Hayes of Elba and Mrs. J. N. Wallace of New Brockton; four sisters, Mrs. Dan Stephens, Mrs. Tom Latimer, Mrs. Ock Weeks, Mrs. Liza Clements; four brothers, Messrs. Joe, Will, Jim and Charlie Gunter.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of Mrs. Stephens on Monday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Bush was officiant, assisted by Rev. A. D. Williams. Rev. J. A. Timmerman and Rev. C. A. Johnson, Interment was in the New Brockton cemetery. Elba Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Active pallbearers were Steiner, Weeks, Guy Gunter, Ralph Gunter, Lester Gunter, Willie Gunter, J. D. Gunter, Lewey Stephens and Jake Stephens. Honorary: Lewey Stephens, Austin Harris, Lee Brown, D. A. Bush, Don Fuller, D. J. Brooks, Dick Jeter, John Brock, B. J. Massey and G. C. Hudson.

THE FLOOD TOLL CROWS (By Vela S. Bryant)

The recent flood in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys have already brought about a major disaster. Hundreds of thousands of people are homeless, many dead, and the property damage, which is mounting hourly, is estimated in the millions.

Need for relief funds is still increasing daily and the American Red Cross has sent out another appeal for money, food and clothing. America has already lent a helping hand to the unfortunate victims in the flooded districts of America always has, America always will.

The fine manner in which Elba citizens rallied to the aid of the homeless and suffering as a result of the floods was magnificent. The present Elba Baptist Church, official and in the history of our country. Many more people undoubtedly will be driven from their homes before the crests of the rivers reach the ocean. If you haven't already given, give something and give it quickly. In the flood area people are suffering from cold, hunger, disease and sickness. Remember it is a time to help, not a time to grieve. If we are not our brother's keeper, we are nothing.

Everyone who believes in insurance certainly will contribute something to the Red Cross fund. We never know when our house might burn, when a tornado might blow it away, when we might suffer a terrible injury, when we might have an accident, or when we may die; so most of us carry insurance.

Neither do we know when disaster is likely to strike our community again, rendering us homeless, bringing destruction, death and disease, and leaving us without food, clothing and shelter. So it behooves us to contribute to the Red Cross fund.

Elba citizens have responded nobly and generously for funds in this crisis, but more money is needed. It probably will be necessary for many who have already contributed to give again. Certainly everyone who can spare something, regardless of how small or large the amount, should do his part.

Come a story from a Tennessee town where flood relief funds were being raised. It says a fatherless little boy walked in, listened to the stirring addresses and contributed two cents; all he had.

"I wanted to buy candy," he said, "but I want to give my two pennies to these unfortunate people." It's a pretty little story—sets a good example.

Heard over the radio. An announcer from WLW read a letter from four small boys who sold a pet goat to help pay for a bicycle, but instead wrote, "We want to do without that bicycle and help the poor flood victims so we are sending the money to them."

But the greatest of these is charity.

Mrs. Margaret Campbell spent the week-end in Geneva.

Mrs. Sam Sawyer, who has been quite sick with an attack of influenza, is convalescent.

Liquor Bill Written Into Law Over Veto Of Gov. Graves; Counties To Vote March 10

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 4.—The county option liquor bill became a law at 3:44 o'clock Thursday afternoon when the Alabama Senate voted 20 to 12 to override the Governor's veto. Some two hours previously the House of Representatives had taken similar action by a vote of 65 to 52.

Under the law, Governor Graves must call an election for March 10 in which the state's 67 counties shall decide by their respective votes whether State-owned and operated liquor stores will be established in their borders. Thereafter stores will be opened in counties voting affirmatively.

The other counties will continue under the provisions of Alabama's prohibition law which has been on the statute books for 22 years.

The bill which became law was drawn by Senate and House conferees last week when the House refused to accept the Senate's substitute for Representative Charles G. Sauls' bill. The substitute called a State-wide referendum on the two houses adopted the conference report too late for the crowded bill to reach the Governor's office before the week-end recess. It went to his desk soon after the Legislature convened yesterday at 11 a.m. and was returned to the House with a veto message at 4 p.m.

Governor Graves sent up an amendment restoring the Senate's original referendum provision with the declaration he would sign the bill with its adoption.

Representative Sauls, of Shelby, administration leader in the House, made a brief speech, pointing out that the House had, on three separate occasions in this session, rejected the referendum principle, and moved that the Governor's amendment be rejected.

Representative Welch of Jefferson, also made a brief speech, asking the House to accept the amendment.

The "Without a word" also the House voted down the amendment and then voted to pass the bill, the Governor veto to the contrary notwithstanding. This occurred at 1:20 p.m., just as the Senate recessed for lunch.

Stennis and his wife in high esteem.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. C. Sauls; two sons, Messrs. C. E. Sauls of Mobile and W. H. Sauls of Johnson City, Tenn.; a step-daughter, Mrs. H. H. Rowling of Vaynes, Ga., and one brother, Edward C. Sauls, of Columbus, Ga.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at eleven o'clock in the parlor of Elba Funeral Home. Rev. J. A. Timmerman, pastor of the Elba Baptist Church, officiated and was assisted by Minister Jas. C. Dixon, of the Church of Christ. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Arthur Joutwell, Sam Rowe, Claude Dorsey, J. G. McChesney, Charlie Luna, Sam B. Young, Ben Conner and Jim Whitman. Honorary: C. E. Dorsey, J. V. Wright, Tom Hutchison, R. C. Bryan, Otis Young and J. M. Jackson.

THE FLOOD TOLL CROWS (By Vela S. Bryant)

The recent flood in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys have already brought about a major disaster. Hundreds of thousands of people are homeless, many dead, and the property damage, which is mounting hourly, is estimated in the millions.

Need for relief funds is still increasing daily and the American Red Cross has sent out another appeal for money, food and clothing. America has already lent a helping hand to the unfortunate victims in the flooded districts of America always has, America always will.

The fine manner in which Elba citizens rallied to the aid of the homeless and suffering as a result of the floods was magnificent. The present Elba Baptist Church, official and in the history of our country. Many more people undoubtedly will be driven from their homes before the crests of the rivers reach the ocean. If you haven't already given, give something and give it quickly. In the flood area people are suffering from cold, hunger, disease and sickness. Remember it is a time to help, not a time to grieve. If we are not our brother's keeper, we are nothing.

Everyone who believes in insurance certainly will contribute something to the Red Cross fund. We never know when our house might burn, when a tornado might blow it away, when we might suffer a terrible injury, when we might have an accident, or when we may die; so most of us carry insurance.

Neither do we know when disaster is likely to strike our community again, rendering us homeless, bringing destruction, death and disease, and leaving us without food, clothing and shelter. So it behooves us to contribute to the Red Cross fund.

Elba citizens have responded nobly and generously for funds in this crisis, but more money is needed. It probably will be necessary for many who have already contributed to give again. Certainly everyone who can spare something, regardless of how small or large the amount, should do his part.

Come a story from a Tennessee town where flood relief funds were being raised. It says a fatherless little boy walked in, listened to the stirring addresses and contributed two cents; all he had.

"I wanted to buy candy," he said, "but I want to give my two pennies to these unfortunate people." It's a pretty little story—sets a good example.

Heard over the radio. An announcer from WLW read a letter from four small boys who sold a pet goat to help pay for a bicycle, but instead wrote, "We want to do without that bicycle and help the poor flood victims so we are sending the money to them."

But the greatest of these is charity.

Mrs. Margaret Campbell spent the week-end in Geneva.

Mrs. Sam Sawyer, who has been quite sick with an attack of influenza, is convalescent.

FEBRUARY

JACK-POT

Friday Night, Feb. 5, 8:30
$25.00

NEW ELBA THEATRE

DON'T LET A NEW CAR LOOK OLD

It's not the age that determines the appearance of your car. . . It's the care you give it. We have equipment in new greasing and washing facilities that will make your car look like new.

ELBA OIL COMPANY

F. F. CLARK, Mgr. - PHONE 33 - ELBA, ALA.

F-O-R-E-S-I-G-H-T

In time of stress, only knowledge gained beforehand may prove truly dependable. The added security resulting from adequate information regarding necessary arrangements can prove a source of comfort during a time of need. We welcome requests for information at all times, from anyone.

CHAS. P. HAYES, JR., Licensed Embalmer

Elba Funeral Home

HEARSE AND AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 21.

DORSEY SEZ:

Whether it is a minor adjustment of a small part, or a complete overhauling, you will find that it pays to have it done by mechanics who are thoroughly trained for the work as a good victim so we are completely equipped for any and all jobs.

Bring your motor troubles to us and let our experts solve your problems. It always pays to get the best.

Mr. Ja P. Boyd, Bill Boyd and Miss Jane Boyd of Auburn spent the week-end in Elba and Samson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fleming were visitors to Brundidge Tuesday.

Best In Life

The best of life is that which you give your fellowman. Service and a friendly contact should be the backing of any business. We want to serve this territory and serve it well. You are the one we want to serve.

LET US BE YOUR BOOKKEEPER.

Elba Merchants Exchange

BONDED
OPEN 9:00 A. M. - CLOSE 4:00 P. M.

